Online library-licensed resources are available for use in your classes including eBooks, journals, and streaming media and films. Use the UC Library Search to see if we have access to what you need or ask the library to purchase it.

Course Reserves and Open Educational Resources (OER) are great options for reducing or eliminating student course costs. OER can be edited and customized to fit your course because of the Creative Commons license they are shared under. Contact the UCSC librarians to learn more and discuss your options.

Librarians and archivists are available to consult with faculty developing research assignments.
